Encourage your patients to review the 2014 formulary information within their Annual Notice of Change (ANOC) mailing, or to view the information online when it is available, beginning October 1. Ask them if the coverage for any of their prescriptions has been changed, and consider alternative medications in a lower cost-sharing tier that may meet their need.

Covered blood glucometers and blood glucose test strips in 2014:

- Roche Diagnostics, ACCU-CHEK®
- A limit of 100 blood glucose test strips per month

Other blood glucometer or blood glucose test strip brands or quantities of more than 100 test strips per month are not covered unless you as the doctor or provider tell us another brand or a larger quantity is medically necessary for the member’s treatment, no other brand or larger quantity limit will be covered.

Balance Billing Reminder

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services and our plan does not allow you to “balance bill” Medicare Advantage HMO and PPO members for Medicare covered services. CMS provides for an important protection for Medicare beneficiaries and our members such that, after our members have met any plan deductibles, they only have to pay the plan’s cost-sharing amount for services covered by our plan. As a Medicare provider and/or a plan provider, you are not allowed to balance bill members for an amount greater than their cost share amount. This includes situations where we pay you less than the charges you bill for a service. This also includes charges that are in dispute.

Here is how this protection works for Blue Medicare Access (Regional PPO), Anthem Medicare Preferred Select (PPO), and Anthem Medicare Preferred Standard (PPO).

- If the member cost sharing is a copayment (a set amount of dollars, for example, $15.00), then the member pays only that amount for any services from a network provider. Copayments may be higher for services performed by an out-of-network provider.
• If the member cost sharing is a coinsurance (a percentage of the total charges), then the member never pays more than that percentage. However, the cost depends on the type of provider:
  o If the member obtains covered services from a network provider, the member pays the coinsurance percentage multiplied by the plan’s reimbursement rate (as determined in the contract between the provider and the plan).
  o If the member obtained covered services from an out-of-network provider who participates with Medicare, then the member pays the coinsurance percentage multiplied by the Medicare payment rate for participating providers.
  o If the member obtains covered services from an out-of-network provider who does not participate with Medicare, then the member pays the coinsurance amount multiplied by the Medicare payment rate for non-participating providers.
  o If the member obtains covered services from a provider who has opted out of Medicare, then the plan will not pay for these services, and depending upon the circumstances, the member may be liable for the entire amount.

Here is how this protection works for Anthem Senior Advantage Basic (HMO) and Anthem Senior Advantage Plus (HMO).

• If a members cost sharing is a copayment (a set amount of dollars, for example, $15.00), then the member pays only that amount for any covered services from a network provider.
• If a members cost sharing is a coinsurance (a percentage of the total charges), then the member never pays more than that percentage. However, a members cost depends on which type of provider the member sees:
  o If a member receives the covered services from a network provider, members pay the coinsurance percentage multiplied by the plan’s reimbursement rate (as determined in the contract between the provider and the plan).
  o If a member receives the covered services from an out-of-network provider who participates with Medicare, the member pays the coinsurance percentage multiplied by the Medicare payment rate for participating providers.
